Markosky consistently meets design challenges on roadway projects by taking a collaborative approach to finding design solutions. Our engineering professionals incorporate the expertise of our environmental, structures, and construction departments to deliver comprehensive solutions to roadway designs.

Markosky provides design expertise for roadway realignments, traffic signal and intersection improvements, toll facilities, limited access highways, and major interstate highways. Our team approach allows us to place importance on public safety, functionality of design, scheduling constraints, and service out clients' needs.
